

Against Trial Run Farm Plan for Hogs

Washington, July 6 — (UPI) — Senator Butler (R-Neb.) said today enforcement of a "trial run" of the Brannan farm plan on hogs would wreck the entire agricultural economy of the nation.

He testified before a senate agriculture subcommittee considering a bill by Chairman Thomas (D-Ola.) of the full committee to permit government production payments to hog producers.

Under this, the prices of hogs would be allowed to drop to their natural level on the market and the treasury would pay hog producers for any difference between those and government-determined prices.

"This program," Butler said, "would be disastrous to the agricultural producers of this country. I cannot think of anything worse we could do to the farmers of this country than to pass this bill."

He urged that the present farm price support program be continued through 1950.

The Nebraskan contended that Congress insisted on passing the bill for a trial run on hogs, it should then include all other agricultural items as well to "permit a real test of the program."

The plan applied to hogs alone, he said, would cause a collapse of prices on beef cattle, lambs and poultry "since these prices go up and down together."

Butler said this would then affect the price of grain and end up with prices of all basic agricultural products dropping to between 60 and 75 per cent of parity. (Parity is a formula for calculating the relationship between what a farmer gets for the things he sells and what he buys.)

Thomas suggested an amendment to his bill to include wool, potatoes, milk, eggs, chickens and turkeys as part of the plan for a trial run on hogs. He said he would have no objection to including beef as well.

Ex-Servicemen Seek Pot of Gold on Ocean Bottom

Point Pleasant, N. J., July 6 — (UPI) — Two ex-servicemen expect to know in a few days whether there is a pot of gold at the bottom of the ocean.

They figure the gold, worth about $423,000, is in a sunken boat in the wreck of the wooden galleon, "Delaware," which sank 51 years ago in 63 feet of water.

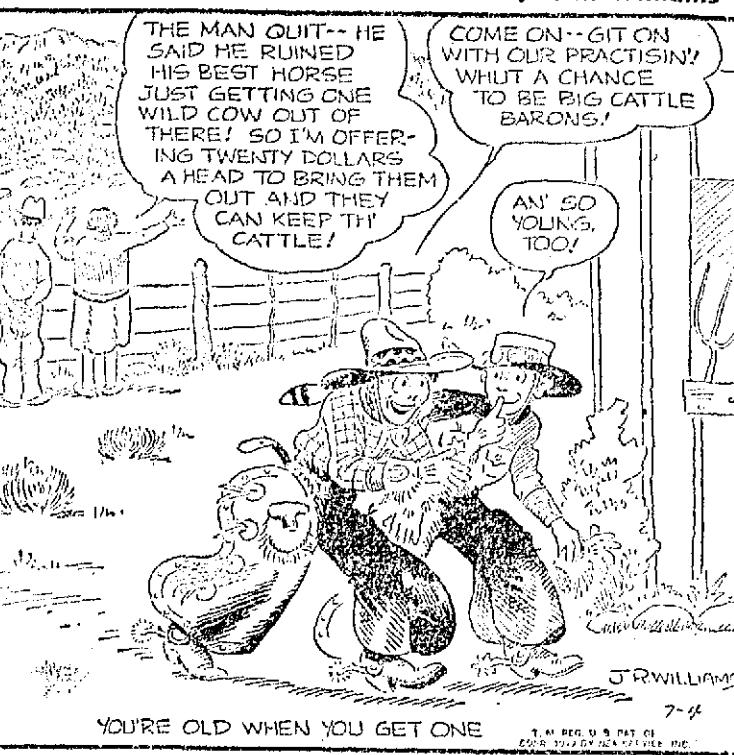

The treasure hunters are Floyd R. (Bud) Sharp, Jr., 31, a navy diver during World War II, and his partner, William Conway, 25, an army veteran. Both are from Point Pleasant. Sharp and Conway are having problems, but are not discouraged. They spent eight hours yesterday relocating and putting a buoy on the sunken ship. Two buoys they had been using as markers were lost three days ago. They also were hampered by waves in the holiday weekend by more than 20 small boats "fishing" the wreck.

Previously, Sharp had been dismantling the vessel piece by piece while Conway tended the diving lines. Their work yesterday put them back "where they were before."

The 290-foot Delaware, of the Clyde Line, bumped off Cedar Creek Station, N. J. on July 9, 1898. It sank two miles off Bay Head beach, near here, as it was being towed to New York the next day.

Only Bobby Jones (1926, 1930) and Gene Sarazen (1932) have won the U. S. and British Open golf titles in the same year.

In a way, few Chinese better personify their country's struggle for freedom and reform than Mme. Sun yat-Sen, widow of the founder of the republic. She is above a product of the era of freedom in an ancient and impact of Western ideas of Democracy backward land. These made her a revolutionary, and set her apart from the rest of her family who have largely ruled China for 22 years.

In the end she has wound up in the arms of the Communists. Why?

Her story is the answer not only to her personal fate, but is a key to understanding how the biggest single bloc of the human race—the Chinese people—are submitting to Communist control.

She was born Soong ch'ing-Ling in Shanghai. Her father was a wealthy Bible-printer. As Chinese re- resented the way the Manchu throne misgoverned his country and kept itself in power partly by trading bits of Chinese sovereignty to foreign powers. Like many wealthy Chinese in those not-so-gauche nineties, ch'ing-Ling's father supported a revolutionary doctor named Sun yat-Sen.

Ch'ing-Ling was a student at Wesleyan college for women at Macon, Ga., when word came through in 1911 that Dr. Sun had overthrown the Manchus. The story has it that she ripped the dragon symbol of the throne from her dormitory wall and jumped on it.

Full of American ideas of freedom and Democratic reform, she returned to China and joined Dr. Sun. When a warlord drove him out in 1915, she followed him to Japan and married him. When the warlords returned, they found a coalition of other warlords had taken over Peking and were keeping alive like the Manchus, by trading bits of Chinese sovereignty off to stay in power.

Dr. Sun sought help from Britain and America. They turned him down. He turned to Soviet Russia, which posed as the friend of freedom in Asia. Russia sent advisers to help Sun reorganize his Kuomintang party along Communist lines.

Sun died in 1925, and a rising young general named Chiang Kai-Shek took command of the party and its army. By 1927 he had defeated the northern warlords. He also had broken with the Communists who had helped him win. The same year he married ch'ing-Ling's little sister, mei-Ling.

Her elder sister, si-Ling, already had married a Shansi banker named H. H. Kung.

Ch'ing-Ling chose to flee with the Communists. She went to Moscow and stayed until 1931. Back in China that year, she said:

The Kuomintang has lost its position as the country's revolutionary party. The party's destroyers, far from being external enemies, are its own leaders."

She meant her brothers in law, Chiang Kai-Shek, H. H. Kung, and her own younger brother, T. V. Soong, among others.

During the Japanese war, Mme. Sun symbolized the united front against the foreign aggressor by staying in Chungking and doing relief work with her sisters. But when the war ended she again condemned the Kuomintang—and the United States for supporting it. She flatly predicted three years ago that American help to Chiang's government would lead only to civil war and that this would result in certain Communist victory. Why?

It appears that Mme. Sun took literally and very seriously her husband's idea that the two things China needed above all were reform and freedom. The Kuomintang was not meeting these needs, because it was getting more corrupt instead of less, and depended more and more on outside help to survive. In contrast, the Reds had practically no outside help and were getting strong support from the peasants.

Anyway, last Friday was the 23rd birthday of the Chinese Communist party, and like a lot of other Chinese Mme. Sun joined in the congratulations. The party hasn't been in power long enough to be corrupted yet, and in any case Mme. Sun could look at the Whampoa river and see no foreign warships. Until the Reds came, there was never any time in Mme. Sun's life that this was possible.

"This," she declared, "is a landmark in the revolutionary struggle of the Chinese people. We have shaken off the fetters of imperialism and colonialism; we have rooted up feudalism, and the people are traveling toward a new and brighter peak."

There you have it—reform and freedom. And who can Mme. Sun or any Chinese think but the Reds?

One question is this: Has Mme.

Sun just been taken in by Com-unist success in a situation where nothing better was presented to the Chinese in terms they found ac-

Dock Strike Hurts Economy of Hawaii

Washington, July 6 — (UPI) — Hawaii today is in the third month of a dockers' strike which not only threatens to destroy the economy but spotlights a notorious Communist fellow trawlerman as boss of the islands' basic labor force.

The strike began May 1. It was called by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union of which Harry Bridges of San Francisco is the president. Bridges is one of the CIO union heads whose loyalty to the Communist party line has brought him into direct conflict with CIO President Philip Murray.

Bridges' union also has organized the sugar and pineapple industries in Hawaii. Some persons believe that once the dock strike is settled, Bridges will attempt to authorize a strike of 185,000 men employed in the Hawaiian Islands. It is estimated that Bridges' union covers upward of 30,000.

Organization of Hawaiian labor was long delayed by employer resistance and did not get going at top speed until about 1943. This delay may have aided Bridges in saddling the islands with an extreme left wing union. But whatever the background, the fact that a union friendly to the Moscow party line now controls basic labor in the key Pacific national defense area is a factor gradually beginning to get attention in the United States.

The strike was called when employers refused to increase hourly wage rates on the docks from $1.49 an hour to $1.72. The union sought $1.72 with the argument that Hawaiian rates should more nearly equal the dockers' pay on the West Coast, which is $1.82 an hour.

Employers argued that the comparison was not sound because the steadiness of work on Hawaiian docks and other advantages more than compensated for the disparity in pay with the West coast. The employees offered a hike of 12 cents and finally 13. Last month a board named by Gov. Ingram M. Stainback recommended a settlement on the basis of 14 cents an hour which would have raised the hourly rate to $1.54. Employers accepted and the union rejected that offer.

Philadelphia, July 5 — ? — Authorities today awaited a court order permitting an intensified search of a home where they say a woman starved like a beggar despite the fortune a rich com-

A preliminary survey of the cluttered building yesterday revealed the woman was worth at least $200,000, authorities estimated, but she chose to live on a semi-starvation diet of bread and milk.

The woman, Mrs. Catherine S. Ritter, 79, was found dead Sunday in her trash-blanketed bed. The house was crammed with rubbish and litter.

Police said they suspected that somewhere in the maze would be found a clue to the whereabouts of possibly $100,000. Mrs. Ritter is believed to have hidden away.

Police said rents collected from tenants of some 14 houses she owned were brought to her regularly. Neighbors told the investigators they knew virtually nothing of the woman except that she used a tiny vestibule as an "office" from which she conducted her outside contacts.

About two weeks ago two neighbors related Mrs. Ritter had kept on leading that movement them to a store to buy her bread if they don't want big trouble in and milk.

But it was at least a year since Everybody took places for ditching. There was not an ounce of panic anywhere on the plane.

"We put on life jackets, but the crew didn't as first. Then the crew did, too, and I thought, 'this is it.'

The crew opened an escape hatch and life rafts were made ready, Kaye said.

"It was a wonderful peaceful trip before the fire. I'm not worried about schedules or appointments; I just glad to be here."

Miss Brough, who was on her way home after playing in the tennis tournament at Wimbledon, said the plane crew was "simply magnificent."

"I personally never felt any anxiety," she said.

Sandra Pegg, an 11-month-old passenger, slept throughout.

Vaughan Near Blows at Questions

Washington, July 7 — (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, was back in town today in fine fighting trim.

Refreshed after a quiet, three-week cruise to Guatemala, the 200-pound general threatened to punch one persistent photographer in the nose, and started to square off with a reporter who asked him who had paid for the trip.

He roared that he himself had equity in the bill. And he made it equally plain that he didn't think too much of the reporter's questions about his acquaintance with one of Washington's influence-seekers, "five percenter."

Vaughan, in whose defense Mr. Truman made his now-famous S.O.B. speech, reminded all and sundry that he was the President's military aide and they "might want favors at the White House some day."

The incident took place last night at Washington's Union station where reporters and photographers were on hand to greet Vaughan and his baby.

The President's favorite poker companion posed for a few pictures, then tried to call a halt. But the photographers pleaded for "just one more."

"How would you like a punch in the nose?" Vaughan belied, smiling, in the direction of Photographer Gene Jones of the Washington Post. "No more pictures, I said."

"General," replied Jones, "you can be sure there will be one more picture and I'll take it."

It was then that Vaughan reminded his tenantry of his White House prestige

Britain Will Ask U.S. to Purchase More

London, July 7.—(UPI)—Britain's socialist government looked today for American help to save it from bankruptcy. But the nation's press took it to task for not doing more itself to meet the crisis.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps formally will ask the United States to help Britain overcome its worst post-war financial crisis at a conference beginning tomorrow with U. S. Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder.

Cripps announced, in commons yesterday, that Britain in the meantime will clamp an embargo on further purchases from the United States and take other emergency measures to stem the drain on its gold and dollar reserves.

Snapped the Financial Times in one of its angriest editorials in months:

"Why is it impossible for this government to contemplate action commensurate with the gravity of the crisis? One reason, admittedly, is that the crisis is not a British crisis alone. . . ."

"But there is another more important. The government is determined to preserve the ark of socialism, come what may. This crisis cannot be dealt with in ostrichlike manner. It is a crisis for the country. And it would be well for the country if it produced a crisis for the government."

The Times commented bitterly that experience already has shown that "first-aid measures of this restrictive sort offer no remedy. At best they can only buy time for the necessary adjustments in economic policy required to stem the real challenge."

Said the ultra-conservative Daily Mail:

"What a policy for a proud, vigorous people. This country needs expansion, not contraction, freedom, not restriction."

But reaction to Cripps' statement was overshadowed by the importance of his forthcoming conference with Snyder.

The conference may prove as crucial as those of nearly 20 years ago, when Britain went off the gold standard and the world plunged into the blackest economic depression in history.

Sitting in with Cripps and Snyder will be Canadian Finance Min-

Chiang Believes a Third War Is Inevitable, Plays a Waiting Game for Aid

By JAMES D. HITE
AP Foreign News Analyst
(For DEWITT MacKENZIE)

Chiang Kai-shek has said it again.

If America doesn't come to his aid, the Communists will take all China and eventually Asia.

Chiang has said this many times. It still is true that because of the profound unrest and poverty in both China and Asia, communism has easy going there.

But the generalissimo is talking about only half the question. He tells us what will happen if he doesn't get American aid. He does not say what will happen if he gets it.

Maybe that would be because he has sunk to his present low estate during a period when he was getting help from America.

At V-J day he was still a national hero, symbol of China's fight against the Japanese invader. Today Chiang is the "retired" leader of a vestigial government whose hold on the Chinese mainland is conditioned largely by how soon the Reds decide to push it off entirely.

It got into this fix while getting American aid, and the evidence is that one or both of two things are true: Either the aid wasn't enough, or was misused to such an extent that it didn't do what it was supposed to do.

Both are probably true. America aid to Chiang to fight the Communists (one figure cited is $1 billion) was never more than a fraction of that voted for Europe. And the story of what happened to Chinese-equipped and trained armies is one of the most profound studies in futility and corruption the world has witnessed for some time.

Would fresh aid be any better used? The answer lies in another question — is what left of the Chinese Nationalist government any more capable of using help efficiently?

There is no concrete evidence of that, and in fact the little evidence available is that what resistance there is left in China depends upon regional chieftains like the Moslems in the northwest whom Chiang never could depend upon in Touring south on vacation a couple were so favorably impressed with the friendliness and courtesy of a Kroger store checker in Nashville, Tenn., that they took time out to write the local newspaper editor about it. He published the letter which ended—"We hope to meet many more like her on our tour." Friendliness and courtesy are a part of the Kroger tradition.

DOROTHY DIX

Man Is Breadwinner

Dear Miss Dix: My sweetheart and I have been going together for four years. He is 19 and I am 20. At present he is out of work. I have a fairly good job and I believe I could pay the expenses until he found work if we were married. He thinks that he would be dissatisfied without work and with me paying all the bills, so he does not want to marry until he has a job again.

What would you advise?

IMPATIENT
Answer: I would not only advise him to wait, but also to be patient with him. You will find the earnestness of which I am capable, not to think of doing anything so wrong and foolish as to get married until your man is on his feet again and has some good, settled way of making a living. If you force him by your importunities into marrying you now against his better judgment, you will wreck him, because you will destroy his self-respect, you will break down his morale, you will kill everything that is fine and beautiful in your love, and eventually he will come to hate you as he realizes what a mess you have made of his life just because you were impatient and not willing to wait for a deferred happiness.

Don't delude yourself into thinking that it is fine and noble for you to be willing to work and support your husband, and that he will be grateful to you for doing so. If a man has any decency and any spirit of manhood about him, he wants to be the breadwinner in his family. He wants to take care of his wife. He wants to be the strong and efficient one at the head of the house, and when you

Legal Notice

ORDINANCE NO. 641
An Ordinance Laying Off a Portion of the City of Hope Into a Street Improvement District, to Be Known as Street Improvement District Number 15.

WHEREAS, parties claiming to be the owners of two-thirds in assessed value of the property located within the territory hereinafter described have filed a petition praying that an improvement district be established for the purpose herein set out.

WHEREAS, our due notice as required by law, the City Council of the City of Hope, Arkansas, has heard all parties desiring to be heard, and has ascertained that said petition was signed by two-thirds in assessed value of the owners of real property within said territory.

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it enacted by the City Council of the City of Hope, Arkansas,

SECTION 1. That all of the real property situated within the following territory, to-wit:

Begin at the Southeast corner of Lot 1, Block 14, College Addition, thence run westerly to the Southeast corner of West Hall of Lot 2, Block 14, College Addition, thence north parallel to Grady Street to the south line of 5th Street, thence west along the south line of West 5th Street to the Northeast corner of Block 13, College Addition, thence north along the west line of Washington Street to the south line of West 4th Street, thence westerly along the south line of West 4th Street to the Northwest corner of Lot 2, Block 18, Wallis Addition, thence north to the south line of West 5th Street, thence north 50 feet, thence south to the north line of West 6th Street, thence east to the east line of Fulton Street, thence south along the east line of Fulton Street to the Southwest corner of Lot 12, Block 20, College Addition, and thence east along the south line of Lots 12, 11, 10, and 9, in Block 20, College Addition to the Southeast corner of said Lot 9, thence north to the Northeast corner of Lot 3, Block 21, College Addition, thence east along the south line of said Lot 3 to Texas Street, thence easterly to the southwest corner of Lot 2, Block 12, College Addition, thence easterly to the east line of South Washington Street, thence south to the southwest corner of Block 11, College Addition, thence easterly to the southeast corner of Block 11, College Addition, thence northerly along the west line of Grady Street to point of beginning.

be formed into a local improvement district for the purpose of paving with bituminous surfacing (blacktop) without curbs and gutters the following streets located wholly within said area:

1. W. st 6th Street from the west line of South Grady Street to the east line of South Fulton Street.
2. W. st 5th Street from the west line of South Washington Street to the east line of South Fulton Street.
3. South Fulton Street from the south line of West 4th Street to the north line of West 6th Street.
4. The street running north and south through Blocks 18 and 19 in College Addition from West 4th Street to West 5th Street.
5. South Washington St. from West St. to West 6th Street.

The proposed paving to be a road-mix bituminous surface, 12 feet wide on a 6 inch compacted clay gravel base, 22 feet wide, including a base prime coat and a surface seal coat; that said district be designated as Street Improvement District No. 15; and that Dewey Baker, B. W. Edwards, and J. A. Davis, are named Commissioners who shall compose the Board of Improvement for said District.

SECTION 2. Because the voluntary blocktopping program in the City of Hope is already in progress, and because the City of Hope, which will do the work for this Improvement District, has arranged to let a contract for the gravel haulage immediately and because it is most economical for the Improvement District to be included in the general program in the City of Hope and because the condition in regard to dust and defective streets grow worse and worse; that for said reasons it is hereby declared necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, safety and welfare and an emergency is declared to exist and this Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.

Passed and approved on this the 5th day of July, 1949; emergency clause passed and approved July 5, 1949 and published in The Hope Star of Hope Arkansas July 7, 1949.

No War Scare Gen. Comptre Reports

Returning from Washington, where he attended a conference of State Selective Service Directors, Brig. Gen. E. L. Compte, State Director for Arkansas, declared today that questions revolving around National Defense were an enigma in the conversation of every group in which he came in contact with, and while he added no "war scare," he said he was greatly impressed by the high interest exhibited in measures designed to protect the country's safety.

"I was much gratified," Gen. Compte declared, "that appreciation of the work which our local Selective Service boards have done in the interest of national safety—and are now doing—is not confined to the State of Arkansas. I refer especially to a statement of Senator O'Mahoney, chairman of the Senate committee considering the 1949-50 fiscal year appropriation for Selective Service, during hearings held shortly before I arrived in Washington."

Gen. Compte said he believed Senator O'Mahoney's statement was of interest to every community in the State of Arkansas and he quoted the Senator directly as follows:

"I will say personally, General, that I feel that no service which has been rendered in this country since the beginning of the war, has exceeded the devotion to the public interest and in patriotic endeavor that this service has performed by the local selective service boards. I think those citizens carried a perfectly tremendous burden. They were doing an unusual popular service, but they did it extraordinarily well. I think that they deserve the best that the country can give them."

The statement was made, while Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, was on the stand testifying as to the necessity of keeping intact the $16,700,000 appropriation as recommended by the President for Selective Service to continue to function as demanded by law. The House of Representatives slashed the requested amount to $4,500,000.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a girl of 18, engaged to a boy who is 19, but does that make him my present lord and master? If it is necessary for me to attend school function or dances, if I talk with any one, male or female, he raves. If I go out on the hoodooed evenings when I don't see him he starts a quarrel. I love this boy dearly, but I am not oblivious to his many shortcomings, among which are jealousy, selfishness and sulkiness. I am not happy with him but I would be much more unhappy without him. Do you think our engagement should be broken off now, or shall I wait to see if time will change him?

PERSEPHONE
Answer: You may be unhappy for a little while if you break off your engagement to this ill-tempered young man, but if you do, you will bring lasting misery on yourself. For it is a natural disposition that his wife has to live with him in and day out, and if that is agreeable and cantankerous her marriage will be a failure, and as the old saying goes, she will sup on sorrow and her drink will be tears.

It doesn't matter how many outstanding virtues a man may have if he has a mean and cranky disposition. He may be noble and good-minded. He may be honest and honorable. He may be sober and moral and industrious and a pillar of righteousness in the community in which he lives. These are nothing to the wife if he is surly and grouch and fault-finding and hard to get along with.

Certainly this young man has put up the stop, look and listen sign for you. He has shown you that if you marry him he will treat you as the dust beneath his feet. He will expect you to obey him as if you were a slave. If you don't give in to him on every point, he will go into the silence that will send the temperature of your home down below freezing and out of which you will have to cajole him by affecting yourself.

I can imagine no worse fate than a girl can bring upon herself than to marry such a man. So take the tip as to the future he has given you and break away while the going is good.

DOROTHY DIX
Dear Miss Dix: We women get tired of being told how to hold out to husbands. Isn't it up to the husband to hold his wife's affections as much as it is to the wife to keep her husband entertained and well taken care of?

I would like to say to every bridegroom:

Don't throw away that with which you caught me as soon as we are married. Don't forget the little considerations and courtesies you extended me before we were married. Don't forget to tell me how nice I look nor how sweet I am. It carries a thrill at any time for any woman. Don't keep all your good clothes and good manners for company. Don't cease to be a lover just because you have become a husband. Women are just as sentimental and romantic as men and if husbands would remember this there wouldn't be so many wives looking abroad for men who understand them.

Don't go off on your holidays and Sundays, the only days I could be with you, and leave me with friends or by myself while you golf. The real reason I married you was because I loved you and wanted to be with you and wanted that you felt the same way about me.

DOROTHY DIX
Dear Miss Dix: For thirty years my husband and I have made a happy home for ourselves and three unusually fine children. But my husband has one quality that has often caused me pain. Women are simply irresistible to him and he can't bear near one without getting all pepped up and swelling out his chest and trying to attract her attention until he reminds me of nothing so much as a strutting turkey gobble. By steadfastly asking for her to see or talk about this I have kept up the dignity of the family, but it is very wearing on me, and I had not been brought up to be a perfect lady I would be tempted to hit him over the head when he makes such a spectacle of himself.

But really there is nothing the wife can do except to shut her eyes and call her sense of humor to her aid, for these middle-aged, reconditioned sheiks who always want to paw flappers and kiss every pretty young girl are so besotted with vanity that they are beyond all human aid. Particularly are beyond all wives' aid for when the wife tries to sue them from their folly they think she is jealous and that just egos them on.

So you just have to make up your mind to endure these little irritations and be generous enough not to begrudge them because our husband is getting such a whale of a kick out of them.

New York, July 5 — The Bugsy Siegel murder in Beverly Hills has become another classical mystery of the Hollywood underworld in which the moral intricacies of the swimming pool aristocracy mingle openly with murderers up from the New York slums and vice versa and both groups look pretty much alike.

Barney Ruditsky, a retired New York policeman now operating in that zone, is highly regarded by his clientele and an element of the heat was small due to the heat and only 37 rounds were shot during the afternoon with Mr. Lewis shooting three and Mr.

Pine Bluff has won the first place in the Cotton States league and now trails the leading Greenwood Dodgers by only two games. The Cardinals combined an 11-hit attack with nifty relief pitching to blast the Dodgers 12 to 3, in the opener of a three-game series at Pine Bluff Wednesday night.

The Dodgers got only two hits used them with two Card errors and wildness of Pine Bluff's first two pitchers to avoid a shutout.

Card Starter Charlie Roberts loaded the bases without yielding a hit in the second inning. Then he allowed the Dodgers' first hit—a grand slam by Don Halt.

Charles Baker took over the homewinners' mound chores and gave up the other Greenwood safety in the same inning.

American Reds Called Stalin 'Our Leader'

New York, July 5 — (AP) — American Communist leaders joined in addressing Premier Josef Stalin as "our leader" in 1935, a Communist conspiracy trial defendant testified today under cross-examination.

Gilbert Green of Chicago, the witness, said he was in the American delegation attending the seventh world congress of the Communist International at Moscow in 1935.

Others in the delegation were Earl Browder, then general secretary of the American Communist party, and William Z. Foster, its president national chairman, the defendant said.

Questioned by U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGroarty as the 25th week of the trial opened, Green said the U. S. delegation voted for a greeting to Stalin in which the Soviet leader was addressed as "our leader."

The greeting said that Communist parties throughout the world "will consolidate their connections under Stalin's leadership and 'will be faithful to the end to the ban-

Soldier Held in Hit-Run Flying in Death

Lafayette, Ala., July 6 — (UP) — Robert E. Pennick, 22, of Newellton, La., an infantry corporal stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., was bound over to a grand jury on a charge of first degree manslaughter in the "hit and run flying" death of an aged Negro.

Bond was set at $1,000 and Sheriff Jim Abney said today that so far the soldier had not made it.

The sheriff accused Pennick of piloting a "hit and run" plane that flew low over a highway and killed John H. Hall, a Negro who was standing in a wagon trying to control a pair of scared mules. The accident occurred Saturday.

His case will come before a grand jury the week of Sept. 5 and, if indicted, he will be tried two weeks later.

Pennick and three companions had rented the plane to fly home for the Fourth of July holidays. The three companions, Sheriff Abney said, were released last night under $200 "witness" bonds to keep them from being AWOL at Fort Jackson.

Witnesses of Marx, Engels and Stalin, the witness testified.

"Under this banner," said the greeting, "communism will triumph throughout the world."

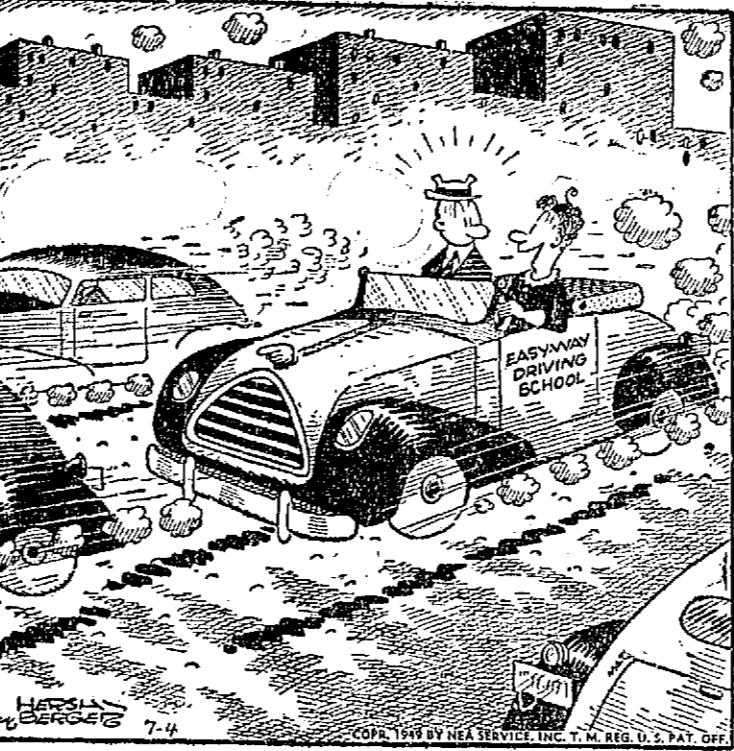

Green, Illinois chairman of his party, said the Russian premier attended one session of the congress. Asked by McGroarty if he had met Stalin, the witness replied:

"I never had that honor or pleasure."

The answer was stricken at the request of defense counsel.

The Chicagoan and his 10 co-defendants are charged with conspiracy to advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

West Winning War Against Grasshoppers

Denver, July 7 — (P) — The Air war on grasshoppers in Wyoming and Montana has "temporarily" put down the threat of a plague in the grain belt.

Jim R. Dutton, chief of the U. S. grasshopper control division, em-Montana has "temporarily" put an interview today on the results of an airplane poison-spreading campaign against the hungry insects in those states.

The battle isn't over, he says,
not by a long shot.

If the Wyoming-Montana "hopper" armies had been left alone, Dutton declared, they would have made the current Nevada Battalions look silly.

They would have been fully as tough as the locusts swarms that descended on the grain belt in the 30s to lay waste to millions of acres of cropland all the way from Canada to Texas.

"We have killed a whale of a lot of grasshoppers" and saved lots of range grass," Dutton said. "But the million and a half acres we sprayed represented only the primary danger area.

"Outside that area are millions of acres of infested land on which the hoppers are multiplying at a terrific rate."

On these lands, he said, many farmers and ranchers are attacking grasshoppers at their own expense, some of them using planes.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is furnishing supervision and in some cases poison bran but Dutton thinks a full scale drive like the one now nearing completion in a limited area is going to be necessary to end the grasshopper menace for good.

The USDA started the aerial campaign against hoppers with a $1,000,000 appropriation.
